MATINEE at the Opera House to-day.

Opera House this evening "The Still Alarm."

The great spectacular play, "The Paymaster," has been located at the Grand.

John Mooney, a plain drunk, was arrested near the market house in the second ward, last night.

The Zane Street M. E. church has arranged for the purchase of a fine new organ for the auditorium of the church.

The last Saturday night dance of the House & Herrmann's last club will be given at Beebe's hall to-night.

Overcoats again became very fashionable yesterday afternoon after being almost entirely out of style for several days.

Care of Paley, Cary & Co's wagons, loaded with an immense stock, were taken yesterday at the corner of Twenty-sixth and Chapline streets.

Messrs. G. Mitchell & Co. have bought a fine new wagon and team for use in their furniture department. It reflects a good deal of credit on the firm.

Work has been begun on the excavations for the addition to the Fourth ward school building, contracted for by the Board of Education some time since.

An unknown man had his ankle badly sprained on the creek bank, near the Crescent mill last evening. He was taken to the hospital in the patrol wagon.

The hall given at Westwood Hall last evening by the Grand Lake Fishing Club was an orderly and enjoyable affair, and the attendance was really very large.

OWING to the continued alarming illness of Mrs. M. H. H. of the St. Luke's Church, that church will be closed on Sunday.

This handsome fifty five engine, used on the stage in the production of "The Still Alarm," was exhibited at the front entrance of the Opera House yesterday, and was a good many compliments.

Young men are invited to attend a young men's meeting at 7:30 o'clock to-night, at the Young Men's Christian Association building. An interesting service will also be held at 8 o'clock to-morrow.

ALREADY a great deal of interest is manifested in the numbers of the Independent Opera House on April 25, by Mr. Frank Hennig, assisted by talented amateurs. "The City Hospital" will be the first of the series.

HEALTH OFFICER SUGGESTS that the death rate had decreased very materially during the past week. For the week ending last Sunday there were thirty eight deaths, and for this week, up to last night, there had been twenty five.

The concert at the Opera House next Monday evening by the Opera House Orchestra, assisted by Miss Agnes Vogel, of Pittsburgh, Prof. Herman Shockey and other good players, will see the house crowded to its utmost capacity upstairs and down. Those who desire to enjoy it will be wise to secure seats at House's music store before the good ones are all gone.

In the last issue of the Living Echo it was proposed by the boys of the Institute that Prof. Hirsch deliver a lecture on Japan and Lieutenant Brenner on Africa. The proceeds to be for the purpose of securing for the Institute an outfit of gymnastic apparatus. The idea is a good one and the boys will join the boys in the earnest hope that both of these gentlemen will consent to give their assistance in this very appropriate way.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

The Kingly Trial Occupies the Entire Day Before Judge Campbell—One Case in Part.

In the Circuit Court yesterday morning before Judge Campbell in Part II, the trial of Frank Kingly, charged with manslaughter, was resumed at the point where it was left off the night before. The defendant was the only witness examined. His testimony was for fifty cents, that he had said he did not have it, that they had both used heavy words, that they engaged in a quarrel, that Kingly had hit him with the steel, that a struggle followed for the possession of the steel, and that he had gotten it and thrown it, striking Kinglyman, causing his death.

The argument was opened by Prosecutor Howard at 10 a. m. Jacobs followed for the defense, followed by Arnett, and Mr. Howard closed for the State. The case was given to the jury at 3:10 p. m.

At 4:30 the jury reappeared, and through the foreman, T. F. Porter, announced that it had found the defendant, Frank Kingly, guilty of involuntary manslaughter.

Colonel Arnett entered a motion to discharge the prisoner, notwithstanding the verdict. The motion was overruled by the court, and the case was set for a future day, and Kingly was remanded to jail.

The question to be raised by the motion is whether the judge has the right to pass on a case where the defendant is in the case in this instance, prescribes no penalty. The same question was raised in the Hanley case at New Cambridge.

The jury was discharged last Monday, and the case was set for to-day.
